

Felkrem. Marketing Intern

Felkrem is a full-service sports marketing representation firm, helping professional footballers and brands pivot toward success. Our core services are marketing consulting and athlete management. The sports industry is being dominated by large agencies who represent hundreds of athletes and therefore don't prioritize their individual needs. These large agencies believe in money first, management second.

As retired pro players and pro team executives, we realized we needed to change the landscape and create a firm that believes in managing our athletes first.

Our goal is to disrupt this industry and change the way athletes think of agents, and we are looking for our new class of interns who can help us with that mission.

We are looking for an enthusiastic marketing intern to join our marketing department and provide support and creative ideas to help achieve our goals. You will have administrative duties in developing and implementing marketing strategies for our clients, both on the athlete and brand side.

As a marketing intern, you will collaborate with our marketing/PR team in all stages of marketing campaigns for our brands while supporting our athletes' needs in their own personal brand-strategies. Your insightful contribution will help develop, expand and maintain our clients' needs.

This internship will help you acquire marketing skills and provide you with knowledge of various marketing strategies. Ultimately, you will gain broad experience in sports marketing and should be prepared to enter any fast-paced work environment.
