Felkrem. Soccer Intern

Felkrem is a full-service sports marketing representation firm, helping professional footballers and brands pivot toward success. Our core services are marketing consulting and athlete management. The sports industry is being dominated by large agencies who represent hundreds of athletes and therefore don't prioritize their individual needs. These large agencies believe in money first, management second.

As retired pro players and pro team executives, we realized we needed to change the landscape and create a firm that believes in managing our athletes first.

Our goal is to disrupt this industry and change the way athletes think of agents, and we are looking for our new class of interns who can help us with that mission.

We are looking for an enthusiastic intern to join our firm and provide support for our FIFA agents and athlete clients. You will also have the opportunity to identify new brand endorsements for our athletes (in the form of sponsorships) as well as for our consulting division by generating opportunities and demand through outbound email efforts.

This internship will help you acquire sports management skills and provide you with knowledge of various sports management strategies. Ultimately, you will gain broad experience in sports and should be prepared to enter any fast-paced work environment. This position is perfect for those interested in becoming a sports agent.

Overview:

- Job: Soccer Intern
